

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Entrex launches the “Entrepreneurial Ticker Organization” to establish global standard for Trades, News & Data for private companies.

Boca Raton, Fl. February 24, 2020: Entrex is pleased to announce the launch of the “Entrepreneurial Ticker Organization”, or ETO, to establish and maintain a global “Ticker” which can distribute trade information, news and financial data on private companies, traded across various global markets, to the financial data distributors and aggregators.

“Today is like the internet in the 1990’s when web-sites were written in different code – and browsers couldn’t read them. We hope to do what HTML did to standard the internet and connect private company trades and information, from markets around the world, into a common data source which financial aggregator can use – let’s call it the ‘e-tape’ for now” said Stephen H. Watkins CEO of Entrex.

“Investor knowledge, and its neutrality and availability, has been key to the public markets success - Entrex’s success in creating capital market systems for private companies securities has shown us how every broker dealer or RIA who has helped clients make investment decisions has been challenged by the lack of a standardized, and neutral, source of information on the private sector” Watkins continued.

“The founding members of the Entrepreneurial Ticker Organization shall be sharing their insight into creating this platform which we hope to launch, in version 1.0., in the first quarter of 2020” suggested Paul Landrew, CEO of UNSS, which merged with the Entrex Holding Company in 2019.
