Entrex Carbon Offset Company files Reg A “CO/SETT” with the SEC

Boca Raton, FL, April 3, 2023: Entrex Carbon Offset Company, LLC has filed its initial Reg A securities filing with the SEC – (UNQUALIFIED – pending SEC response and qualification).

“We see our patent pending CO/SSET as a paradigm shift for the ESG community,” said Stephen H. Watkins, CEO of Entrex Carbon Offset Company. “When and if the SEC qualifies the offering, we hope to build a vibrant trading market for CO/SETT buyers and investors. Owners receive their annual carbon offset dividend to neutralize their income statements while neutralizing the environment. This Reg A filing shall replace the existing Reg D offerings when and if qualified”.

“The CO/SETT innovation allows owners to retire carbon offset dividend income against carbon offset expense — neutralizing their associated expense while also mitigating their carbon footprint,” Watkins continued. “It offers companies a win-win carbon neutrality solution with income statement bottom line benefits.”

“Entrex’s regulatory and security mindset created a whole new category of products for the voluntary carbon market — they are exclusive in offering renowned Wall Street oversight and research of the underlying projects and carbon offset securities — which brilliantly offer buyers and traders comfort without the historical underwriting of projects and offsets firms have had to do in the past,” said George D. Sullivan, CEO of Net Zero Analysis and Design Corp.

The filing is available: <https://www.sec.gov/edgar/browse/?CIK=1931853>
