

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Edenark Group Becomes Entrex Carbon Market Member

Boca Raton, FL. February 15, 2021: Entrex (OTC: UNSS) (<https://Entrex.Market>) is pleased to announce that Edenark Group has joined the Entrex Carbon Market as a Member.

"I'm excited to be able to offer securitized offsets to our clients through the Assignment and Retirement program," said David Goodman, CEO/President of Edenark Group (<https://edenark.com>). "Our client companies have made the commitment to environmental responsibility and this program allows them to demonstrate that commitment in a very real and immediate way," he continued. "The team at Edenark is able to act as a one-stop shop for our existing and new clients' carbon neutrality needs."

"By becoming an Entrex member, Edenark Group joins a growing number of global companies on the Entrex Carbon Market who have gained access to regulated Carbon Offsets through two different programs. Whether they purchase a whole security of 1,000 offsets, or choose to obtain a smaller number through Assignment and Retirement, they provide their clients comfort in knowing they are getting legitimate UN and Worldbank registered and securitized offsets, eliminating the risks of illicit offsets present in the market today," added George D. Sullivan, CEO of Net Zero Analysis.

"Carbon offsetting is an important prong in an organization's climate action goals, whether that's to offset 10% or 100% of its carbon footprint," said Stephen H. Watkins, CEO of the Entrex Carbon Market. "Entrex's Assignment and Retirement Program allows companies to utilize securitized carbon offsets in the quantity they need for immediate use, without having to make a purchase in excess of their current needs. It's great to have Edenark Group on board as one of the Entrex Carbon Market Members supporting their clients."

About Edenark Group:

Edenark Group was founded in 1997. The organization has been facilitating board/ownership-level strategic and operational planning/execution for more than 20 years. They improve client organizations via the Edenark Group ISO 14001 sustainability certification program, which, as the premier sustainability standard in the world, helps client organizations reduce costs; and improve brand image, revenues, profits and valuation. They also improve client organizations via the Edenark Group Best You Can Be employee performance enhancement program, PACE Advisor project management and finance program that helps clients maximize the ROI on capital improvement projects, their real estate advisory arm, Edenark Realty Group, which, as an international commercial real estate broker and advisor, has led the strategic integration of client real estate assets into the overall organizational improvement discussion, and their interim executive leadership service, which provides chairman, director, CEO and advisory services for underperforming organizations.
