Entrex and UNSS announce
Stephen H. Watkins to become CEO

Boca Raton, FL. December 9, 2020: The Entrex Capital Market (OTC: UNSS) (<https://Entrex.Market>) is pleased to announce that the UNSS Board of Directors has appointed Stephen H. Watkins to become the CEO of UNSS effective December 14, 2020. While this appointment moves us toward the future, Universal Solar Technology, Inc. recognizes the contribution of its outgoing President, Mr. Darrell A. Calloway. Mr. Calloway has been a key contributor for the past four years and commits to supportive availability to ensure the merger is completed efficiently.

“It is the right time for this change. To make early strides in 2021, Stephen will need the official status of President and CEO to take the lead in the final stages of the merger”, said Paul D. Landrew Chairman of UNSS, “He has been a consummate professional as we have worked diligently through final actions needed for the merger. With our actions near completion, this is not considered the end of the race, but the baton hand off to the next sprinter.”

“This is an exciting milestone for the Entrex/UNSS merger. We have worked behind the scenes to execute deliverables for the merger and we are nearing the realization of what proves to be an exciting future. Now that we are nearing the next chapter, it makes sense to start building the management team to execute in 2021” said CEO of Entrex, Stephen H. Watkins.

“More exciting for Entrex is how various private market sectors are seeing revived business activity as the Covid Pandemic gets behind us – businesses are beginning to look for capital for growth and brokers have investors clamoring for quality yield -- while others are focusing on carbon neutrality through our Entrex Carbon Market” he continued.
